6 COMPOSITION

6.1 Complete the following sentences using the words from the text. The first letter of each word is provided.

1. off-kilter; 2. evokes; 3. implied; 4. integer; 5. fuzzy; 6. confines; 7. intersection; 8. distracted; 9. diverse

6.2 Add prefixes to make the following adjectives from the text negative:

important	unimportant
symmetrical	asymmetrical
essential	non/unessential
classical	unclassical
pleasing	displeasing
decorative	undecorative
identical	nonidentical
even	uneven
scientific	unscientific

6.3 Use the hints from the table to name the types, strategies and techniques of compositions.

Simplification	A postulate that basically suggests that each image should contain only the necessary subjects.
Rule of odds	It relates to a number of subjects on an image.
Golden ratio	You use the squares to draw a spiral that looks like a snail's shell.
Rule of space	It provides the contextual background for the represented topic and is often relative to spatial illusion.
Allover composition	When entire surface of the piece is worked on in a more or less uniform way, and the normal way of treating composition (with the picture having a center, top or bottom) is not considered.
Rule of thirds	It is linked with the division of an image into thirds horizontally and vertically in order to avoid bisecting which is not very visually pleasing.
Grouping	Clustering elements/subjects of an artwork, as opposed to scattering of the elements/subjects.

8.8 Search the web for Cadavre Exquis (Exquisite Corpse). Make a few short notes on the key features of this kind of drawing. Use the notes to deliver a short oral presentation to the class.

E.G.

* Cadavre exquis is similar to the old parlour game consequences – in which players write in turn on a sheet of paper, fold to conceal what they have written, and pass it on to the next player – but adapted so that parts of the body are drawn instead.

* It was invented in 1925 in Paris by the surrealists Yves Tanguy, Jacques Prévert, André Breton and Marcel Duchamp. The name 'cadavre exquis' was derived from a phrase that resulted when they first played the game, 'le cadavre exquis boira le vin nouveau' ('the exquisite corpse will drink the new wine').

* Cadavre exquis as a drawing approach has been used by other artists since the surrealists notably the YBA artists Jake and Dinos Chapman.
